Driven By Impact

As a speaker, I help individuals recognize that their struggles are not setbacks but sacred spaces where strength, clarity, and purpose are born. "From the fire" is not just a phrase—it's a declaration. A declaration of the raw and ongoing process of transformation that every individual must walk through on the path to purpose. Fire refines, reshapes, and reveals. It is where grit and perseverance are forged, where there is power in the pain of progress, and where hope is not found in the absence of struggle but born right in the center of it.

Word on the Street

"Scott genuinely lights up a room when he speaks. He brings energy, insight, and a natural ability to connect with students. His presentations feel more like conversations, no matter the size of the room. He meets students where they are by sharing relevant advice that leaves them feeling more confident and better prepared to take on their next challenge."

— Lisa, Director of Career Engagement Clemson University

"Scott is an exceptional speaker who captivates his audience with a perfect blend of charisma and expertise. His authenticity and realness shine through in every presentation, allowing listeners to connect with him on a genuine level. His ability to engage listeners with clear insights not only informs but also inspires, leaving a lasting impact on attendees."

— Mary, Emerald School of Excellence Founder and Principal

"Scott has a rare ability to deeply connect with his audience, speaking with such kindness and passion that listeners not only hear his message - they feel it. His words inspire action, leaving people genuinely moved and ready to change the world."

— Isabella, Student

"From the moment he started talking, you could tell Scott was different. I never expected that going to that one event would lead me to someone who would become such a big influence in my life. But here we are and I'm really thankful for it."

— Hugo, Student

Popular Keynotes

Purpose over Perfection—

Living with purpose and making an impact doesn't mean you have to be perfect. In a world often driven by comparison, Scott explains how science affirms the immeasurable value of every individual, regardless of their online presence.

Navigating the Storm—

Each generation faces the choice to either retreat in uncertainty or confront it with courage rooted in trust and hope. Scott offers guidance and encouragement on how to manage chaos and continue moving forward.

Two Kinds of Pain—

The discomfort that comes with growth is different from the pain of brokenness. Scott uses his experience recovering from surgery as a metaphor for the challenges encountered in life's journey.

Finding Ikigai—

Ikigai, a Japanese word meaning "reason for being," emerges where your unique talents, gifts, and passions meet a need in the world. In this inspiring message, Scott guides listeners on a path to discover their individual calling.
